Lewis & Clark: The National Bicentennial Exhibition, presented by Emerson

Opening venue of the national exhibition organized by the Missouri Historical Society. Visitors will have a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to step into a lost America. Marvel at the historic and ethnographic treasures that tell a 200-year-old story that changed a continent.

Gateway Arch (Jefferson National Expansion Memorial) — St. Louis Riverfront, St. Louis, MO 63102

www.gatewayarch.com

Giant screen film — Great American West

A giant screen movie filmed in over 25 national parks that brings to life the stories of how the west was won — from Lewis & Clark's famous journey to tales from mountain men to the gold gush and more! Complement this movie adventure with a visit to our Museum of Westward Expansion. (Movie is subject to change without notice.)

Lewis & Clark State Historic Site, Camp River Dubois
One Lewis and Clark Trail, Hartford, IL 62048

www.campdubois.com

The Visitor Center is a 14,000-square-foot multimedia center and museum that tells the story of the entire journey, but with a special emphasis on the winter preparations at Camp River Dubois. Here you will find a film presentation, a full-size 55-foot cutaway keelboat and exhibits on how the men worked and played.
